PLDW Attorneys Publish a White Paper on the Influence of Technology in Health Care and Advisories on Patient Rights and Physician Credentialing

Providence, RI – May 1, 2015 – Pannone Lopes Devereaux & West LLC (PLDW) Managing Partner Gary R. Pannone and attorneys Sally P. McDonald and Jillian N. Jagling recently published an informative white paper highlighting the influence of technology in health care, as well as two advisories directed to individuals and health care providers regarding the transforming landscape of the nation’s health care reform. To read the publications, click Telemedicine and the Health Care Industry, Privileging and Credentialing Processes and Disputes, and Patient Rights and Care Issues.

“As health care reform continues to evolve, it impacts stakeholders on many levels,” said Attorney Pannone. “Our attorneys welcome the opportunity to share their insight and knowledge on health care reform’s regulatory and compliance issues to assist consumers, providers and insurers make informed decisions.”

Attorney Pannone serves as the team leader for the firm’s Business Law practice that includes the corporate, nonprofit and health care disciplines. He represents business owners and nonprofit organizations with respect to corporate governance, corporate formation and restructuring. He has been recognized by his peers with the AV Preeminent rating from Martindale Hubbell, which is the highest rating based on both legal ability and ethics. He has also been recognized as a leading lawyer in the areas of business law and corporate compliance by The Best Lawyers in America, Chambers USA, Super Lawyers and Corporate Counsel. In 2014, Attorney Pannone was named Rhode Island's Lawyer of the Year by Best Lawyers in his practice areas.

Attorney Jagling is an experienced practitioner in the areas of health care compliance and was formerly an attorney in the general counsel office of a major health care provider. Attorney McDonald is a member of the firm’s Litigation Team and concentrates her practice in the areas of employment law, health care and commercial litigation. She has been recognized as a multi-year recipient of Super Lawyers Rising Star lawyers and is among the top 2.5 percent of Rhode Island lawyers under the age of 40.
