PLDW Attorney Matthew C. Reeber is a Featured Speaker at the 29th Annual URI-Schmidt Labor Research Center Labor and Employment Law Conference

Providence, RI – April 11, 2016 – Pannone Lopes Devereaux & West LLC (PLDW) Senior Counsel Matthew C. Reeber and a member of the firm’s Employment, Litigation and Municipal Infrastructure teams, is a featured speaker on the subject of “Internet Communication and the Spoliation of Evidence” at the 29th Annual URI-Schmidt Labor Research Center Labor and Employment Law Conference on April 15, 2016. The day-long conference begins at 8:30 a.m. and will be held at the University of Rhode Island’s W. Alton Jones Campus in West Greenwich.

Attorney Reeber will address recent Rhode Island cases that address the destruction of electronically stored information and the use of electronically stored information in litigation. The event is open to the public and qualifies for 6.0 MCLE credits. To register or for more information, log onto Labor and Employment Law Conference.

Attorney Reeber represents clients in a wide variety of matters, including the defense of employers before state and federal courts regarding claims brought pursuant to Title VII, the Family Medical Leave Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, and equivalent state law statutes. He routinely appears before all Rhode Island state and federal courts, as well as administrative and regulatory agencies. For the past four years, he has been named a Rhode Island Rising Star by New England Super Lawyers, a distinction that recognizes the top 2.5 percent of Rhode Island lawyers under the age of 40 or those in practice for 10 years or less.
