PLDW Municipal Infrastructure Team Leader Teno A. West to be a Featured Presenter at New York's County Attorneys' Association Annual Meeting

White Plains, NY – May 4, 2015 – Pannone Lopes Devereaux & West LLC (PLDW) Principal and Partner Teno A. West, who leads the firm's Municipal Infrastructure Team, will be a featured speaker at the 2015 Annual Meeting of the County Attorneys' Association of the State of New York (CAASNY). Attorney West will present the topic, "Municipal Solid Waste Flow Control in New York State," on May 18, from 2:45 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. at the Otesaga Resort Hotel in Cooperstown, NY. The presentation will include a review of municipal solid waste flow control in New York and explain the legal impact of such laws using case studies and examples of how flow control measures can be enacted, implemented and enforced by municipalities. For further information about the CAASNY and the event, please visit www.caasny.org.

Attorney West is nationally recognized for his representation of municipal governments in the areas of public contracts, water law, solid waste management, municipal law, public finance, procurement law, administrative law and construction law. As a leading authority in the field of alternative delivery approaches, including design-build, design-build-operate, concessions and other forms of public-private partnerships, he has served as the lead negotiator for the development of several cutting-edge environmental and civic municipal infrastructure projects throughout the United States. He has extensive experience in representing government agencies, municipalities and counties in the public procurement process and counseling clients with respect to environmental infrastructure projects, including water, wastewater, combined sewer overflow, solid waste, co-composting, materials recovery, and conversion technology and waste-to-energy projects. Attorney West has special experience in the development of urban renewal and municipal construction projects, representing municipalities and public improvement corporations in the procurement, construction, operation, and financing of a variety of civic projects, including sports stadiums, municipal buildings and educational facilities. He is a frequent guest speaker at national and international trade association events and global conferences.

PLDW's Municipal Infrastructure Team delivers responsive, cost-effective and strategic legal counsel and guidance to states, counties, municipalities and public authorities across the country seeking solutions to complex infrastructure needs. The firm's municipal infrastructure attorneys are highly experienced lawyers at the forefront of new developments in efficient methodologies for water and sewer treatment, solid waste management, municipal buildings, recreational facilities, and other public infrastructure projects. The Team draws upon in-depth experience in multiple areas of law, as well as public finance, project management, real estate, contract maintenance and other disciplines to solve complicated legal issues on municipal projects from conception to completion. Whether a project involves financing, structuring contract documents, design-build, design-build-operate or the design of comprehensive public-private partnerships as it relates to a public project, PLDW attorneys deliver the fullest range of legal services to clients nationwide.
