PLDW Partner Brian J. Lamoureux to Address Cyberbullying in Thought Provoking Presentation, “What Would Jesus Post?”

Providence, RI – October 31, 2014 – Pannone Lopes Devereaux & West LLC (PLDW) Partner Brian J. Lamoureux, a national authority on social media and the law, will lead a discussion on Internet safety and cyberbullying with parents and teachers at St. Peter Tri-Parish School, located at 120 Mayfair Road, Warwick, RI, on Wednesday, November 12th, beginning at 6:00 p.m. in the Parish Creche room. Attorney Lamoureux’s presentation is entitled “W.W.J.P. (What Would Jesus Post?).” His remarks will include an in-depth discussion of the pervasiveness of cyberbullying and its harmful consequences, as well as a review of social media apps and sites children are using, often without their parents’ knowledge. He will also explain how parents may be held responsible for what their children post online and provide practical tips and cautionary questions adults should be asking themselves and their children.

“Cyberbullying is a growing epidemic as a result of the widespread use of social media and a serious threat to the well-being of our children,” said Attorney Lamoureux. “Parents and teachers must be on constant alert as to what their children and students are sharing online. There are no easy answers but starting the dialogue and educating yourself is the first step. I look forward to sharing my insights with parents and teachers, as well as discussing their thoughts and concerns.”
