FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Pannone Lopes Devereaux & West Partner Teno A. West presents
“The State of Design-Build in Rhode Island”

Event co-sponsored by national design-build organization

Providence, RI (March 12) – Pannone Lopes Devereaux & West LLC (PLDW) Teno A. West, a national expert in municipal infrastructure law and design-build alternative project delivery methods, will host a reception and review on “The State of Design-Build in Rhode Island” on Thursday, April 8 from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the firm’s Providence administrative offices, 317 Iron Horse Way (American Locomotive Works). The event is co-sponsored by the Design-Build Institute of America (DBIA), New England Chapter. West is Chair of the Rhode Island Committee for the DBIA. Registration is required by March 30, to Beth Phillips at bphillips@pldwlaw.com or call 401.824.5132.

"Design-build project delivery methods integrate design and construction services to ensure efficiency and cost savings for owners and design and construction practitioners," said West. "I am delighted to present information at this reception about the recent advancements in design-build and its use as an alternative project delivery method in Rhode Island."

West leads PLDW's Municipal Infrastructure Team and is a national authority on public-private partnerships, water and wastewater law, solid waste management alternative energy projects and procurement law; and design-build-operate initiatives. West represents government agencies across the country in his practice area, including drafting legislation required for undertaking alternative procurements and design-build and design-build-operate projects.

For further information, contact David Sweet, PLDW Director of Administration at 401-824-5100.
