PLDO Attorney Randelle L. Boots is a Featured Speaker at the Launch of a New Initiative by Providence Country Day – “The PCD Quest”

Rhode Island – October 2, 2020 – Pannone Lopes Devereaux & O’Gara LLC (PLDO) Attorney Randelle L. Boots was a featured speaker at the launch of a comprehensive access to education program by Providence Country Day called, “The PCD Quest.” The initiative offers reduced tuition and greater access to learning opportunities through a new online academy, and other educational and mentoring resources to help students succeed in life. In her remarks, Attorney Boots, who is a 2009 alumna of Providence Country Day, congratulated the school for leading the way forward in innovation and excellence in education to help students achieve their personal and professional goals. To learn more about the new initiative, visit The PCD Quest.

Attorney Boots is a member of PLDO’s team of litigators assisting in client representation in all stages of litigation from pre-trial investigation and discovery, to motions and pleadings preparation through trial, settlement and the appeal process. She is a skilled legal researcher and writer with significant work in the public and private sectors. Prior to joining the firm, Attorney Boots served as a Judicial Law Clerk for the Honorable Chief Justice Paul A. Suttell of the Rhode Island Supreme Court and for the Trial Court Law Clerk Department, as well as a Legal Extern in a private practice and as a Student Clinician for the Environmental and Natural Resources Law Clinic in Vermont. Previously, she worked in marketing and business development for technology and cloud-based content management companies.

She earned her J.D. from Vermont Law School, cum laude, and her B.A. in Environmental Studies from Wellesley College, where she was named an 8-Time All-Academic and All-American in Cross Country and Track and the 2011 NCAA DIII Mile National Champion. She is admitted to practice in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.
